

	Chair: Hildrun Kretschmer and Liang Liming
9.00-9.30	Hildrun Kretschmer	Opening: Visibility of COLLNET members' collaboration on the Web
9.30-10.00	Donald deB. Beaver	Does collaborative research have greater authority than individual research?
10.00-10.30	Liang Liming, Hou Changhong	Research collaboration and the co-awarded phenomenon of Price awardees from smaller countries
10.30-11.00	break
11.00-11.30	Loet Leydesdorff	The mutual information as an indicator of complexity and self-organization in relational systems
11.30-12.00	Olle Persson, Wolfgang Glänzel and R. Danell	Inflationary bibliometric values: the role of scientific collaboration and the need for relative indicators in evaluative studies
12.00-12.30	Wang Yan, Wu Yishan, Pan Yuntao	Status of collaboration in science and technology in China as reflected in co-authorship
12.30-13.30	lunch
13.30-14.00	Frank Havemann	Highly productive German biomedical researchers and their teams in the last two decades of the 20th century – a bibliometric analysis
14.00-14.30	Shivappa L. Sangam	Collaborative publications in the field of development research in India
14.30-15.00	Caroline S. Wagner and Loet Leydesdorff	Mapping Global Science Using International Co-authorships: A Comparison of 1990 and 2000
15.00-15.30	Hildrun Kretschmer	Author productivity and Erdős distances in co-authorship and in Web link networks
15.30-16.00	break
16.00-16.10	Valentina Markusova, V.A. Minin, A.N. Libkind and C.N.M. Jansz	Russian Grantee´s output as an indicator of external collaboration
16.10-16.20	Dennis N. Ocholla and Onyancha O. Omwoyo	An informetric analysis of the corruption literature based on Africa between 1990 and 2001
16.20-16.30	Farideh Osareh	Mapping the structure of library and information school (LIS) Web sites: using cluster and multidimensional scaling techniques
16.30-17.30	poster presentations and final COLLNET discussion	